Sir, It is reported that a code telegram has been received at the Arsenal saying that agents of the Yunnan rebels in Japan have bought twenty aeroplanes, which they will probably try to send to Yunnan via Shanghai. In consequence of this telegram a special watch is being kept outside Woosung.

Two more men named Daung Zen Tsung 大政宗 and Woo Nyoh 瑞和 have arrived in the Arsenal from Peking to assist in the watch for officials who desert their post and come to Shanghai. It is said that Daung and Woo brought a dispatch from the Central Government containing instructions to have Wu Ting Fang and Tang Shao Yi watched, as, according to information alleged to have been received in Peking, they are in sympathy with the Yunnan rebels.

General Lu, Deputy Military Governor, who is stationed at Woosung, visited the Arsenal yesterday. He had tiffin with Mr. Li Tsoong Nyoh ^{李宗衡}, Director of the Arsenal Works and General Yang. All three seemed to be on the best of terms.

It is reported that Nyeu Thih Sung 聖尼休 who was an officer in the rebel army during the second revolution, arrived in Shanghai a few days ago, and is staying in the western part of Frenchtown.

The City detective named Tsang Ts Yuin who was alleged to have taken bribes from the Hwo Wei gamblers has been found guilty by the Arsenal Authorities and sentenced to 3 years imprisonment to be followed by deportation.
